Optimize Electronic Client Contact With Presence Email Management

Electronic communication with customers has become nearly as universal as telephone contact. In fact, because of its convenience and the written record it provides, there are many instances in which electronic communications are actually the preferred contact method of many customers. However, many contact center solutions don't provide the same functionality for email management as they do for voice communications.

Presence Mail Interactions offers a full range of management features and capabilities that make email, fax and SMS channels fully integrated parts of your contact center activities.

Presence Mail Interactions Lets You:

- Make electronic correspondence an accessible part of the customer's historic record
- Route messages using pre-defined criteria to adapt to your business processes and ensure routing to the appropriate agent
- Accommodate rich graphic content and other multimedia (including attachments) for all inbound/outbound email
- Fully integrate with all other modules in the Presence Contact Center Suite
- Include email as part of all reporting and real-time monitoring

An Email Response Management System With Full Functionality

Intelligent routing	Automated routing based upon business data
Qualification codes	Assign custom identifiers to each interaction to ensure proper handling, follow up and dispositioning
Message templates	Variable information for standard forms can be filled in automatically from existing customer records from CRM or other database
Email suspension	Individual email can be put "on hold" to address higher priority activities without losing interim data/input
Predefined text	Standard responses, such as instructions, links and referrals, drawn from dynamic knowledge base with accessibility controlled by individual mailbox authorization or by specific campaign

Email Management With Benefits That Only a Complete Contact Center Solution Can Offer

As part of a comprehensive, fully integrated platform, Mail Interactions helps improve the productivity and profitability of all your contact center activities.

- Simple integration with any POP SSL capable server or platform
- “Smart” automation that reduces costs and increases accuracy
- Blends agent activities to balance inbound/outbound volume
- Email incorporated as part of a holistic perspective with full cross-channel visibility
- Improved insight into customer interactions by applying the same reporting metric capabilities used for voice communication
- Response tracking for every interaction to support ongoing process refinement and increased customer satisfaction
